Capabilities Statement

Rapid Response Research Group, LLC. (DBA - 3RGI) is a small business that provides sensor development, advanced processing solutions, and integration support of airborne sensors for DoD and industry customers. We operate a variety of turboprop and fixed-winged aircraft to provide advanced maritime RADAR, LIDAR, and FOPEN development and testing of military and commercial sensor systems. Our staff includes pilots, engineers, and technicians experienced in delivering high-end aircraft solutions.

We provide advanced design, development, integration, and Test and Evaluation of all our platforms, sensors and systems for our customers. 3RGI also supports the operations of airborne sensors and systems for our customers. Trust-based business relationships are at the core of 3RGI's customer service plan. 3RG maintains a variety of fixed-winged aircraft. Our staff includes the best pilots, engineers, and technicians with experience in the development of extremely capable aircraft solutions.
